To all it may concern

I would like to apply to join Lyneham and Badenstoke Council.

I have only lived in Lyneham for 10 months after moving from Tawhill in Swindon, this is a different setting to a town and we have settled quite nicely, and have met quite a few locals already.

Coming from a small village in South Wales I have been a country lad for most of my life, so the peace of a village again is sure bliss.

What can I bring to the council is a hard question, being compassionate about the countryside and environment has always been a priority for me, I suppose I need to settle into my role withing the council and see how things work, I am an outspoken person and can come up with good ideas when needed.

Having been in the Army for 10 years make's one a team player and along with running many Hotels and Public houses one has to be social with people.

My wife and I want to make new friends around the area, this is difficult, however being involved with village life will certainly help.

I am sure I can bring something to the council.

In anticipation
