A number of plot holders have approached me over a lengthy period of time complaining about the loss of produce, in some cases Polly tunnel's have been ripped open using a sharp instrument.

Such losses cannot continue, consequently I propose that the gate is removed to be placed with a 2 metre high fence that would cover and hopefully protect that entire length of perimeter fencing.Plot holders expecting a delivery of compost/farm manure can have it delivered via my lane.I would have no objection to holders offloading from whatever then conveying it onto their plot, that system worked for many years without any problems.

I am also negotiating the possibility of installing a portable loo, something that people have complained about for ages, I'll raise these issues at the next meeting.Now that my health has been restored, I'm not prepared to fit on my hobby horse whilst there are a multitude of differing subjects to be resolved.
